HOSTING SERVICES

The Digital Ranch, Inc. has always been a custom internet and software development firm, but when our clients began asking us to provide this service so they no longer had to deal with their ISP and hosting partners, we recognized that providing this service was a necessity to ensure success and peace of mind for our clients and ourselves. It seemed that universally hosting partners were notorious for their poor service and lack of response. We knew we could do better than the competition and so we have.

We offer hosting services that provide our clients with greater technical support and control throughout development and implementation of their site and its' content. Our secured co-location site is in Salt Lake City through an exclusive relationship with ViaWest.
