

Privacy Policy

The Digital Ranch has created this privacy statement in order to demonstrate our firm commitment to privacy. The Digital Ranch uses state of the art technologies to safeguard customer information and communications for unauthorized intrusions. The following discloses our information gathering and dissemination practices.

Personal Information Collection and Use

The information given to The Digital Ranch in the registration process or at any other time is for The Digital Ranch's use only. It is common practice for companies to gather personally identifiable consumer information in order to conduct business and offer services. For example, a web-site developer or web-hosting provider may collect personally identifiable consumer information, such as name, address, telephone number, and a variety of other information in the course of billing and providing web service to a customer. The Digital Ranch will not sell, share, trade, rent or disclose this information to third parties without the consent of the customer (except as required by court order, subpoena, search warrant or other legal process).

Public Forums and Links

The Digital Ranch makes chat rooms (IRC), forums, message boards, and news groups available to its customers. Please remember that any information that you choose to disclose in these areas becomes public information and you should exercise caution before disclosing your personal information. The Digital Ranch's customers should also be aware that any information they disclose on their own websites becomes publicly available. The Digital Ranch is not responsible for any information our customers choose to make available in any of these forums. Also, please note that The Digital Ranch has links to other sites. We encourage our customers to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every Web site that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by The Digital Ranch's Web site.

Information Security

The Digital Ranch takes every precaution to protect our customers' information. When customers submit sensitive information via our Web site, your information is protected using the safest and most secure methods available. When our registration or service request forms ask customers to enter sensitive information (such as a credit card number), that information is encrypted and protected with the best encryption software (SSL) in the industry for the Web. While on a secure page, such as our secure credit card payment form, the lock icon will appear on the bottom of Web browsers. If you have any questions about The Digital Ranch's security, please feel free to contact security@digital-ranch.com.

Necessary Submission of Information

Personally identifiable consumer information is shared with Authorize.Net, the credit card processing company we use to the extent it is necessary for them to provide payment processing services.

Correction/Updating Personal Information

If a user's personally identifiable information changes (such as your zip code), or if a user no longer desires our service, we will endeavor to provide a way to correct, update or remove that user's personal data provided to us. This can be done by contacting customersupport@digital-ranch.com or by calling 801-485-4503. The person changing the information MUST be the contact on the account. Normally, the contact is the person who opened the account or a person who was assigned to the account by the business. To change the information, you must be able to verify that you are, in fact, the contact on the account.

Notification of Changes

If we ever need to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on this page. Rest assured that The Digital Ranch has no intention of disclosing, or selling, customer information in the future.
